This package contains one BE QUIET cartridge, two controller overlays, and playing instructions.

BE QUIET cartridge.

The experience failed and it got loose.
It's crazed and hungry for blood, everybody's dead.
The blind beast has chased you down to the entry of the defense bunker.
There is nowhere you can go, you've got to face it.
Being deaf you can only rely on your eyes.
You are in the forest, it's pitch black and the only thing you have is a little sonar you managed to pick up before leaving the laboratory.
You can locate the beast with it, but be careful. It can feel it.
You have to activate the 3 generators to enter the bunker before the monster gets you.
Be swift, be accurate and most importantly... BE QUIET.

As the scientist, your goal is to activate the generators to escape the beast. However, since it's dark you can't see it so you will have to use your sonar to locate it. But beware, the beast will know your position...

As the beast, you have to kill the scientist before he gets to escape. You are blind so you have to rely on your ears. Listen to the heartbeat of your prey it will lead you to it, and stay sharp as he uses a sonar that you can hear...

- 2 player game : the scientist versus the beast.
- As the scientist, you will have to repeatedly click the button with your index finger to go forward, twist the controller left and right to turn and click the button with your thumb to activate the sonar. The first generator will be seeable on the screen, but you will have to detect the others with your sonar.
- As the beast, you will have to follow the heartbeat of your prey. The closer it is the louder it will be. To change direction, rotate on your chair. You can hear his sonar as well, stay focus.
